Challenge of the week

You need a new word from the lord each day!
This book of the Law must not depart from your mouth; you are to recite it day and night, so that you may carefully observe everything written in it. For then you will prosper and succeed in all you do. .

Joshua 1:8

INTENTIONAL DISCIPLE-MAKING

The process of discipleship requires a teacher-student relationship. Hence, there is no discipleship where the convert is not taken through a definite process of intentional learning. The goal of discipleship is to produce an individual who has come to the realisation of living on daily basis with Christ and experiencing consistent growth through the transforming work of the Holy Spirit.

OUTLINES:

1. Reasons For Intentional Discipleship
2. How To Mentor Others To Become Disciples

REASONS FOR INTENTIONAL DISCIPLESHIP

Intentional discipleship is a command by our Lord Jesus Christ (Matt. 28:18-20). It is to ensure the continuity of the gospel and to enable believers do greater works in the ministry (Act.2:42; Jn.14:12). Another goal is to reproduce ourselves in others (2Kgs.2:15). In addition, it should be aimed at eradicating the sacred/secular dichotomy in the society. In other words, the living experience of the one being disciplined should not be divided between church-life and work-life (2Cor.5:20). Invariably, intentional discipleship helps to raise new generations of kingdom believers and world-changers (2Tim.1:5).

INTENTIONAL DISCIPLE-MAKING

HOW TO MENTOR OTHERS TO BECOME DISCIPLES

Jesus accomplished the purpose of intentional discipleship in the lives of the early believers. He recruited, reshaped, renewed and launched them out to take the gospel to the then known world.

Therefore, intentional disciple-making should involve the following:

1. Living an exemplary life (1Cor. 11:1; Tit.2:7; 1Tim.4:12)
2. Spiritual parenting (1Tim.1:2; 6:20; Gal. 4:19).
3. Giving of instruction (Matt.28:20; 1Tim.1:18-19).
4. Letting your disciples observe what you do (Lk.11:1) and committing them to do what you would have done (2Tim.2:2).
5. Giving allowance for mistakes and correction (Matt. 16:22-24; 2Tim.4:2).
6. Giving room for progress report/feedback (Lk. 10:17).
7. Making recommendation for subsequent endeavours (Matt. 17:19-21) and being able to recommend such individual to others (Rom.16:1-2; Phil.4:3)

CONCLUSION

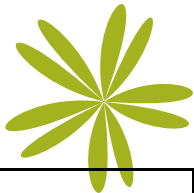

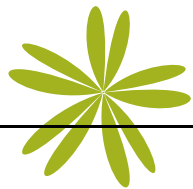

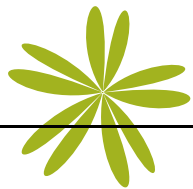

You are not successful until your successor has succeeded. Intentional discipleship does not just prepare people for heaven but makes them relevant on earth. Therefore, make conscious effort to disciple others for Christ.
