FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK

God is ready to act

Text: Ruth 2:19-20

The book of Ruth in the scriptures tells a simple story in the background of some great events. With only four chapters, it starts in hopelessness and ends in hope, unmerited favour from others and the beginnings of restoration and abundance. It begins with sadness which turns to joy. It also speaks volumes about how God works in his people.

Before the story starts, a family experiencing famine went in search of greener pastures, only to suffer further loss, including Naomi's husband, Elimelech, her two sons, Mahlon and Kilion and properties. However, Naomi lives such an exemplary life it speaks to her daughter-in-law Ruth, so much so Ruth refuses to return to her previous lifestyle and makes Naomi's God hers.

In time, Ruth encounters Boaz, who prays that she will find refuge under God, whose wings she's come to seek one. This may remind us of another book of endings and beginnings. In the book of Exodus, God looked on the people of Israel and heard their groaning, freeing them from their oppressors (Ex 2:23-25).

Our petitions to God can sometimes be similar to the Israelites, perhaps in grunts and groaning. Sometimes it may also be in songs, conscious or unconscious. Whether in words, songs or groaning, God has heard us. We may be confused, anxious and uncertain of the future right now due to the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic, still devastating lives, but we can be confident that God has heard our desperate cries.

Bottom line:

We can believe 2022 will bring a revival for the church and a restoration of all we have lost. God has heard our prayers and he knows it is time to act (Ex 2:23-25). He will act in our lives in miraculous and mighty ways in Jesus name.
