FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK

Are we called to be pacifist?

Text: Matthew 5:9

This text tells us God blesses the peacemakers because we're called to be peacemakers wherever we are, in our neighbourhood, communities and homes. Pacifists believe that war is unjustifiable, but as Christians, there are times war may be unavoidable. We're called not to inflame, expresses our rages, take revenge or to fight unjust wars, but there are times we may have to defend ourselves.

Jesus went into the temple and turned the table over (Jn 2:13-16). The violence is undeniable, but Jesus also preached about maintaining peace (Matt 5:9; 39-44). However, for peace to remain or persist, it is often the case that it must be enforced and maintained, by the police for example. Without that, there's bound to be chaos. Pacifists often do not take this into consideration.

Soldiers can be Christians and they go to war. The question is what do we do in an unjust war, where rules have been thrown out of the window and we're convinced evil actions are being done for its own sake? In Luke 3:14, John the Baptist gave some soldiers who came to him some guidance not to intimidate anyone and be content. Christians are expected to seek peace as much as it is possible (Rom 12:18).

Likewise, Jesus told us his kingdom is not of this world (Jn 18:36). There is a time for everything (Eccl 3:1; 8), but we must remember we've been called into the ministry of reconciliation (2 Cor 5:18-20). The government may make cases for war on our behalf or to defend a nation (Rom 13:4). It is a personal decision whether to participate or not and the Holy Spirit is always ready to guide us (Jn 16:13). However, we can also object when we feel evil are being perpetrated in our names (Matt 26:52).

Jesus came to bring us his kingdom and its peace which will never end (Isa 9:6; Jn 14:27; Revelation 21:3).

Bottom line:

No one wins in a war. As Christians, we must work towards the day when there'll be no more need for war (Isaiah 11:6-9).
