VERSE(S) OF THE DAY

Truly, these times of ignorance God overlooked, but now commands all men everywhere to repent, because He has appointed a day on which He will judge the world in righteousness by the Man whom He has ordained. He has given assurance of this to all by raising Him from the dead. ~ Acts 17:30-31 (NKJV)

FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK

The coming judgement

Text: 1 Thessalonians 1: 8-10

While meditation on the word of God and mindful reading can help us to understand the bible, we need the Holy Spirit to give the words power and assure us of its truth (1 Thess 1:5). In today's text, Paul told his audience they've become the message of God for everyone. He stated that this is evidenced by the way people talk about how they live. This of course should be our goal too.

Not only that, along with the Thessalonians we're also waiting in hope for the coming of Jesus once again. It is impossible to overestimate how much hope is crucial to human existence. It is often the only way we can endure under certain circumstances and as Christians, the hope that Jesus is coming soon is one of the truths that sustain us (1 Cor 15:19).

During our study of the book of Proverbs in our Friday bible studies, we learnt that the fear of God is the beginning of wisdom (Prov 1:6). This suggests that it takes the wisdom of God to know him in the first place (Matt 11:25; 16:17; Heb 11:6). Anyone can talk about God. They may be eloquent, knowledgeable and inspirational in their delivery (Acts 16:16-20), but it takes the wisdom of God to transcend all of that and give it life (Jn 6:63-65).

Paul said Jesus has "rescued us from the terrors of the coming judgment" (1 Thess 1:10 NLT). The word of God said it is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of God (Heb 10:31; Matt 18:6). God has delivered us from the power of darkness and translated us into God's kingdom (Col 1:13). Therefore, we need not fear death or the darkness anymore (Matt 10:28).

Paul maintained this is the message people are reading from the Thessalonians and it is what they should be reading from us too. We deserved judgement and punishment, but we've been given eternal pardon (Rom 5:9). In other words, we've been set free for all time (Jn 8:36). Are we behaving as though we are? Do we show appreciation for the saving grace of God by the way we live?

Bottom line:

Our lives should be a testimony to the saving grace of God in our lives. Let's not lose heart and continue to show we've been rescued from the terrors of darkness (2 Cor 4:1-2)
