Holiness Defined

The term "holy" is often understood in its contemporary usage rather than its true meaning in the Scriptures.

The Bible states that:

(1) To be holy is to be distinct, separate, in a class by oneself.

The primary meaning of holy is "separate." It comes from an ancient word that meant, "to cut," or "to separate."

This means that the one who is holy is uniquely holy, with no rivals or competition.

FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK

What is holiness?

Text: 1 Thessalonians 5: 23

This verse tells us God himself will make us "blameless until our Lord Jesus Christ comes again". What comes to our mind when we hear the word "holy"? Hebrews 12:14 emphasises that a holy life is essential before we can see God. "Holiness" in this verse is translated by Strong as to "the effect of consecration: sanctification of heart and life."

Although we're told we can't see God without holiness, we know Isaiah once did, even when he considered himself "a man of unclean lips," dwelling among the unclean and polluted (Isa 6:1-5). We may also note that in places where the scriptures told the story of people who saw God, they were never blameless and begin to understand there's a depth to the "seeing" mentioned in the verse above.

It is about seeing God as he really is. Like Habakkuk, often we're confounded by this concept, wondering why God favours the sinful and doesn't help his own people (Hab 1:12-13). Jeremiah told us there is a seeking and searching necessary before God allows himself to be seen by us (Jer 29:13).

The truth is people only allow us to see what they want us to see of them. We also make conclusions about people without really knowing them. It is the same with God and we see that all through the scriptures (Psa 103:7). We can only know God when we have a depth of intimacy and relationship with him (Exo 33:11-23; Num 12:8; Acts 13:22).

We're called to be sanctified and set apart from sin and the things of the world (2 Cor 6:17; 1 Jn 2:15-17). God is always ready to be found, even when we're not looking for him (Isa 65:1-2; Rom 10:19-21). The good news is that God himself is the one to make us holy. Whatever we think holiness is, God is able to render us blameless before himself (Isa 6:6-8).

Bottom line:

We've been made holy by the blood of Jesus (Heb 10:10). Therefore, we can boldly come before the throne of grace and obtain mercy (Heb 4:16). However, we cannot take this for granted (Rom 6:1-2). Therefore, seek God with all seriousness until he allows you to really see him (Jer 29:13).
